

“In Search of Estraven III: Homophobia, Feminism & (Homo)Sexualities in Cuban Science Fiction of the 21st Century”

YASMÍN S. PORTALES MACHADO

CSWS Noon Talk

Wednesday, May 13, 2015

Jane Grant Conference Rm

Hendricks Hall 330

1408 University St.

Free & Open to the Public

Bring your own lunch

A science fiction scholar and gay rights activist, Yasmín S. Portales Machado is a freelance journalist for cubaliteraria.cu and havanatimes.org. She is the coordinator in Cuba of the “Anticapitalism and Emergent Sociability” Work Group of the Latin American Council for Social Sciences and founder of the Cuban Digital Humanities Network. Her blog is: <http://yasminsilvia.blogspot.com/>. She will offer a feminist epistemological exercise in Cuban science fiction: she studies the logics of subordination between characters of different genders and sexual orientation in the more recent books of Cuban scy fy. Her review includes titles published in Cuba by seven writers, all of whom began their writing career after the fall of the Berlin Wall.

Sponsored by the Center for the Study of Women in Society
csws.uoregon.edu (541)346-5015 csws@uoregon.edu

The University of Oregon is an EO/AA/ADA Institution Committed to Cultural Diversity.

CSWS | CENTER FOR THE STUDY
OF WOMEN IN SOCIETY

O | UNIVERSITY OF OREGON