“From Black Hair to Black Panther: Collaborative Scholarship and Thinking through Cinematic Blackness”

Priscilla Ovalle & Leah Aldridge

Friday, April 13, 2018

10:30 a.m. – Noon

McKenzie Hall

Room 375

1101 Kincaid St.

Join Priscilla Peña Ovalle and guest Leah Aldridge at this CSWS “Works-in-Progress/Author Meets Reader” event. Aldridge (LMU School of Film and Television) and Ovalle (UO Cinema Studies) will share how production and organizing experience informs their thinking and approaches to collaborative scholarship. Ovalle will then present “Kim Kimble’s Celebrity Hair/Style,” followed by Aldridge’s presentation of “Black Panther to Breitbart.” The event concludes with a discussion; attendees are invited to ask questions and offer feedback so Aldridge and Ovalle can further develop their ideas for presentation and publication.

Presentations build from their new book proposals, which will be available the week of the event by emailing povalle@uoregon.edu.
